Reminders about Telehealth

To access counselling via telehealth, you will need access to a quiet, private space; and an appropriate device, (i.e. smartphone, laptop, iPad, computer, with a camera, microphone and speakers) and a reliable broadband internet connection.

Ensure that you are in a well-lit area so your counsellor can see you. Do not sit directly in front of open windows or other bright light sources.

The privacy of any form of communication via the internet is potentially vulnerable and limited by the security of the technology used.

To support the security of your personal information this practice uses Coviu which is compliant with the Australian standards for online security and encryption.

You may have to wait for your counsellor to join you. Whilst waiting you will either see a blank screen within the application, or see yourself until your counsellor dials in. We will do our best to be prompt but occasionally there may be a delay.

Telehealth is available weekdays during school term from 8.30am until 4pm. Sessions will usually run for 30mins.
